explore the next generation of social and content integration. Through cross-screen, multi-platform and multi-format models, We aim to provide Internet users with diversified and multi-dimensional content, to satisfy all of our users' entertainment needs. At the same time, We are firmly aware of the importance of copyright and IP to the protection of creative industries. With respect to copyright, We endeavour to explore potential IPs in the content business ecosystem. At present, our digital content products include: Online Games, Video, Live Streaming, News, Music, Literature.
